

ARIZONA ECONOMIC BASE STUDY AND SPECIAL REPORTS: ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

July 2002

Efforts like the Arizona Statewide Economic Study (SES) can only be accomplished with the help of many partners. The resources required to fund, organize and review the technical elements of the topics studied here have involved organizations and individuals throughout the state. The Department of Commerce acknowledges the efforts of these individuals and organizations. Their generous contribution of human and financial resources has made this document comprehensive, internally consistent and forward looking. The Department of Commerce values the important institutional and personal relationships that have developed as a result of this study.

FUNDING

COMMERCE & ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

Funding for this study has been provided by the Commerce & Economic Development Commission (CEDC). Pursuant to ARS § 41-1504 A.1, ARS § 41-1504 A.3. and ARS § 41-1505.05 B.1., the Commission and the Department of Commerce are mandated to develop a long range economic strategy for the State. In October 2001, the CEDC approved funding for Parts 1 (represented here) and 2 (Economy.com study on Emerging Opportunities). In February 2002, the Commission approved additional funding to obtain public input on the Study, integrate the SES conclusions with locally developed economic strategies and develop a comprehensive document (Parts 3-5).

Members: Margie Emmermann (Chairman), Director, Arizona Department of Commerce
The Hon. Carol Anderson, Mohave County Supervisor (retired)
Jose Cardenas, Managing Partner, Lewis & Roca
Mike Hammond, President & Managing Partner, PICOR Commercial Real Estate Services
Steve Roman, private sector
Paul Waddell, Director Community Relations, Pinnacle West Capital Corp.

PARTNERS

LEADERSHIP COUNCIL

The Leadership Council was appointed in late 2001 by Governor Jane Dee Hull to provide the SES effort with on-going guidance from the perspective of educated stakeholders. Representing Arizona's major industries, both traditional and emerging, as well as urban and rural areas, the Leadership Council has met four times around the State and helped to shape the direction and goals of this project.

Members: Shirley Agnos, Arizona Town Hall
Barry Albrecht, Sierra Vista Economic Development Foundation
Judith Allen, Arizona Association of Industries
James Apperson, Arizona Chamber of Commerce
Brian Babiars, Western Arizona Council of Governments
Bryant Barber, Lewis and Roca
Robert Blaney, U.S. Small Business Administration

James Bourey, Maricopa Association of Government
Joe Brannan, Southeastern Arizona Governments Organization
Eddie Browning, USDA Rural Development
Tom Browning, Greater Phoenix Leadership
Jack Camper, Tucson Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce
Catherine Connolly, Arizona League of Cities and Towns
Jerry Conover, Northern Arizona University
Margie Emmermann, Arizona Department of Commerce
John Fearing, Arizona Newspaper Association
Karl Gentles, USAA
LeRoy Gilbertson, Arizona State Retirement System
Andy Gordon, Arizona Multi-Bank
The Hon. Ginny Handorf, Mayor of Pinetop-Lakeside
Don Holbrook, Lake Havasu City Partnership for Economic Development
Gail Howard, Arizona State University
David Iwanski, Agri Business Council
Tom Johnson, Johnson Motors
John Kelly, Intel
Lynn LaBrie, Arizona Western College
Tim Lawless, Governor Hull's Business Policy Advisor
Maxine Leather, Central Arizona Association of Governments
The Hon. Barbara Leff, Arizona State Representative
Lawrence Lucero, Tucson Electric Power Company
Valerie Manning, Greater Phoenix Chamber of Commerce
Diane McCarthy, WESTMARC
LaVelle McCoy, McCoy Motors
Stephanie McKinney, Greater Flagstaff Economic Council
Richard Mike, Kayenta business owner
Roxanne Nielson, Prescott Brewing Company
Kevin Olson, Steptoe & Johnson
James O'Neil, Jr., ASARCO
David Radcliffe, Phoenix Convention & Visitors Bureau
Ruben Ramos, Bank One
Aaron Saunders, Fluid Connector Products
The Hon. Lucy Shipp, Yuma County Supervisor
Alan Stephens, County Supervisors Association
Tom Swanson, Pima Association of Governments
Kenneth Sweet, Northern Arizona Council of Governments
The Hon. John Verkamp, Arizona State Senator
Paul Waddell, Arizona Public Service
Steve Weathers, Greater Tucson Economic Council
Paige Webster, Greater Yuma Economic Development Corporation
Rick Weddle, Greater Phoenix Economic Council
Bruce Wright, University of Arizona Office of Economic Development

TECHNICAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE (TAC)

From the inception of the SES in October 2001, the Technical Advisory Committee has shared its vision for improving the quality and accessibility of economic information statewide. Committed to a better understanding of fundamental economic dynamics, these representatives from Arizona's universities, utilities and key state agencies have invested hundreds of hours in reviewing Study elements and working to ensure the success of the project. Their dedicated collaboration helped to inform all of us.

Members: Dan Anderson, Assistant Executive Director for Institutional Analysis, Arizona Board of Regents
Brian Cary, Forecast Consultant, Pinnacle West Corporation
Jerry Conover, Director, Bureau of Business and Economic Research, Northern Arizona University
Jim Nelson, Economic Development Manager, Salt River Project
Pat Patton, Economic Development Director, Tucson Electric Power Company
Tom Rex, Center for Business Research, William L. Seidman Research Institute, College of Business, Arizona State University
Carol Sanger, Assistant Deputy Director, Arizona Department of Commerce
Mary Lynn Tischer, Assistant Director, Arizona Department of Transportation
Marshall Vest, Director, Economic and Business Research, Eller College of Business and Public Administration, University of Arizona

TECHNICAL REVIEW TEAM

The technical elements of the SES required a series of Technical Reviewers. These individuals, drawn from both the public and private sectors from around the state, donated time and technical expertise to critique drafts of individual sections on short turnarounds. They identified additional information resources and provided an informed context for many of the Study's technical reports.

Members: Linda Blessing, Executive Director, Arizona Board of Regents
David Barber, Deputy Director, Western Arizona Council of Governments
Cheri Campbell, Transportation Planning Direction, Pima Association of Governments
Brian Cary, Forecast Consultant, Pinnacle West Corporation
Milt Erickson, Career and Technical Education Director, Arizona Department of Education
Chris Fetzer, Planning Director, Northern Arizona Council of Governments
Richard Gaar, Transportation Program Manager, Southeastern Arizona Governments Organization
David Laster, Program Administration, Employment Security Administration, Arizona Department of Economic Security
Bill Leister, Transportation Principal Planner, Central Arizona Association of Governments
Art Macias, Community and Economic Development Direction, City of Douglas Craig Marks, Director, Energy Office, Arizona Department of Commerce
Mark McDermott, Director, Arizona Office of Tourism
Jim Nelson, Economic Development Manger, Salt River Project
Michael Palleson, Arizona State Statistician, USDA, National Agriculture Statistics Section
Pat Patton, Economic Development Director, Tucson Electric Power Company
Steve Partridge, Director, Workforce Development Division, Arizona Department of Commerce
Jack Pfister, (retired) Arizona State University
Stephanie Proper, International Program Manager, Arizona Department of Agriculture
Debra Raeder, Peoria School District
Kathryn Senseman, Specialist, Government Affairs, Southwest Gas Corporation
Gary Smith, Vice President, Citizens Arizona Gas
Jerry Smith, Utilities Engineer-Electrical, Arizona Corporation Commission

Joseph Smith, Director, Arizona Department of Water Resources
Sally Spray, Director, International Trade, Arizona Department of Commerce
Mary Lynn Tischer, Assistant Director, Arizona Department of Transportation
Brad Tritle, Telecommunications Development Manager, Government Information
Technology Agency
Chris Voigt, Senior Transportation Planner, Maricopa Association of Governments
Paige Webster, Executive Director, Greater Yuma Economic Development Foundation
Peter Woog, President, Gray Fox Enterprises

OTHER PARTNERS

Throughout the work on Part 1, there were many individuals who came forward to support the SES in ways "above and beyond" any prescribed responsibility. They participated in selection committees, sponsored meetings and rolled up their sleeves to help fill gaps in the study that otherwise could not be addressed without them.

Thanks to: Barry Albrecht, Sierra Vista Economic Development Foundation
Len Becker, Greater Phoenix Chamber of Commerce
Sally Bender, County Supervisors Association
Joe Brannan, Southeastern Arizona Governments Organization
Dr. John Haeger, Northern Arizona University
Becky Holmes, Salt River Project
Gail Howard, Arizona State University
Steve Julliver, Universal Avionics
Lavelle McCoy, McCoy Motors
Alan Maguire, The Maguire Company
Diane McCarthy, WESTMARC
Rob Melnick, Morrison Institute
Jim Nelson, Salt River Project
Pat Patton, Tucson Electric Power Company
Paul Ringer, Greater Phoenix Economic Council
Gary Smith, Citizen Arizona Gas
Jack Tomasik, Maricopa Association of Governments
Gene Trobia, State Land Department
Rick Weddle, Greater Phoenix Economic Council
The Hon. Carol West, Deputy Mayor, City of Tucson
Bruce Wright, University of Arizona Office of Economic Development

Finally, we would like to acknowledge the heroic efforts of Lisa Danka, Project Manager for the Statewide Economic Study and Director of the Department of Commerce's Office of Economic Information and Research. Her considerable organizational skills and coolness under pressure were called on continually throughout Part 1. While much of the staff of the Department of Commerce was involved in the SES during one time or another, special thanks go to Cheryl Lopez for her proof-reading prowess, Jami McFerren Beams for editing, Thom Renner for his design brilliance and formatting support, Olivia Doherty and Wendy Carroll for their technical support in formatting, Angela Cortez for meeting coordination and collating materials during this long process and the entire Management Team of the agency for their support, understanding and commitment to this project.